channel harvest research
Feed your strategic planning

Channel Harvest announces a brand new opportunity for carriers to unearth insights they can't get anywhere else.

Get the data to help you make smart decisions and improve profitability.

Working with our team which has decades of combined insurance and research experience, you'll help shape our survey and get the feedback you need from independent agents.

Carriers regard Channel Harvest research as a critical piece of their strategic puzzle. Since 2008, we've been delivering critical attitudinal data to insurance carriers, which helps them maximize the effectiveness of their agency operations.

■ Partner or Subscriber? Choose your level

- Become a Channel Harvest Partner, consult on survey development, pulse your agents and harvest rich data for deeper analysis.
- Or, participate as a Subscriber and receive the final survey report and other products.

■ As a Partner, you will...

1. Contribute to survey development.
2. Invite your agents to take the survey. (Or we can. Your choice.) Agents who complete the survey and optionally provide an email address will receive a survey summary.
3. Compare your agents' responses to the universe.
